This course is limited to 20 participants.

Description:

A two day course that includes a review of quality concrete principles, ASTM Sampling and Testing methods, along with the administration of a two part certification examination. The first day is devoted to review and discussion of the ASTM Standards and a practice session for the performance examination. The written and performance examinations will be carried out on the second day. If time allows, examinees can take the option of running the actual performance exams during the practice session of the first day. Non-programmable calculators are permitted.

This is a certification program and should not be considered a training course. Your successful completion of the written and performance examination depends on a thorough knowledge of the course materials. It is strongly recommended that all examinees have a good working knowledge of the testing equipment and ASTM Standards before attending the course. Registration deadline is July 10, 2008.

Please return the registration form by FAX to (406) 449-3199 or mail to Montana Contractors' Association Concrete Division, P.O. Box 4519, Helena, MT 59604. Cancellations, substitutions & accommodations: Cancellations received up to five working days before the program is refundable, minus the cost of course materials. Substitutions may be made at any time. Students requesting accommodations due to physical impairment please make arrangements prior to the class by calling Edie @ (406) 442-4162.
