Meet your Instructor

Scott Olson

With over 21 years of training experience in the environmental arena, Scott Olson brings a wealth of experience to the class. He is the author of International Environmental Standards Handbook, and a member of National Environmental Training Association, International Erosion Control Association and the American Society for training and Development.

He is the former Chair of the Environmental & Safety Technology Department at Red Rocks Community College, where he still retains an adjunct faculty standing. He is on the faculty at San Juan and Laramie County Community Colleges as well, and was the former Director of the Colorado Environmental Training Center.

His students have selected him for the Who's Who Among America's Teachers in 1996, 1998 and 2000, and he is listed in NETAs Who's Who Among Environmental Instructors. He is certified Erosion Control Supervisor with the Colorado Department of Transportation.

Storm Water Management During Construction: Developing and Implementing Storm Water Management Plans (SWMPs)

Upon completion, students will be able to:

- Describe the contents of a SWMP.
- Identify Best Management Practices (BMPs) for the control of Erosion and Sedimentation.
- Describe the requirements for amendments to the SWMP.
- Describe the procedures for development, revision and implementation of the SWMP.
- Describe procedures for conducting routine inspections of BMPs.
- Complete an Inspection Record.
- Describe procedures for external auditing of Storm Water Management practices used during construction.
- Develop a report of findings from an external audit.
